

DECEMBER, 2024 CTC CONNECTIONS

Countryside Trinity Church

FROM THE PASTOR

---- Rev. Nathaniel Asperger

Greetings to you all in the name of the savior, Jesus the Christ!

Tis the season friends, Mariah Carry's "All I want for Christmas" has been blaring everywhere already. The radio stations are in full swing, bringing us the music of Christmas past and present. It is that time of year when Christmas dominates our lives. I love Christmas, but not necessarily the cultural and consumeristic drive for all of the things to go buy and events to attend. The lights and light shows are lovely. The decorations, cookies and everyone's take on peppermint hot chocolate are delightful. The reindeer in the park, live nativities and choir concerts are joyous and fun. However, I love those things less, then the moments at home, at friends' houses and in the fellowship hall where I get to hear, feel and see the companionship of this season.

I recall being a child and enjoying the cookie walk at church this time of year, but loving the days before when all the church ladies and all us kids gathered, baked, iced and sprinkled with laughter abounding. I recall going shopping with my mom, aunt, grandmother and all us kids, but enjoying that far less than the meal afterwards where we played cards and sang together.

The Christmas season is one for connections. Humans are built for community, even loners have their people, favorite pups, cats and gathering places. Jesus exhibits this in his ministry quite well. He had his family, that he spent some time with at various points, but he built up a community of friends, disciples and connections across the land. He connected people to one another, and after his death, those people came closer and built up more community across the ancient world.

As we go into this season, I wonder how we can best reflect this in our own lives? We certainly have wonderful opportunities at church. Gathering for worship, joining in fellowship hall, coming to lunch with the pastor, (shameless advertisement, we have a grand time on Wednesdays!).

Looking at the world today, there are many examples of community, there are however growing examples of isolation and exclusion. I invite us all to consider how we can build this fellowship outside of Sunday. In our homes, with our friends and family, and with all those who pass by the doors of our homes and church. I would welcome any ideas and conversation around these ideas. Above all, I encourage us all to grow in our connection to each other, and the stranger. Sit at a different table at coffee hour, invite someone new to a church event. Invite someone to coffee, brunch, or just to sit and chat, or go visit someone. Invite someone to one of the advent soup Sundays. There are many ways to grow in community and fellowship with those around us.

As we prepare to celebrate the birth of the Messiah, let us be like the shepherds that announced it with fervor. Let us spread that joy and love, in community and fellowship. Know my door is open, and I am always happy to chat.

Wishing you all the best in this season.

Grace and Peace

-Pastor Nathaniel
